

Utah Division of Arts and Museums
Folk Arts Apprenticeship Grants, Funding History, 1989-2010

$312,891 distributed to 198 projects

Over the centuries, traditional crafts, music, dance and stories have been passed down from person to person through families, communities or within tribal, ethnic or occupational groups. The Folk Arts Apprenticeship Grants are designed to help perpetuate this transmission of traditional skills and cultural repertoires by supporting one-on-one teaching between a master artist and a mid-level apprentice. The master artist and the apprentice may meet together every day, every week, or just occasionally, but generally an apprenticeship lasts for an extended period of time. The goals of the Apprenticeship Grants are to recognize master artists for their skills, help compensate them for their time, and assist the apprentice in becoming a master artist who, some day, will pass this knowledge along to subsequent generations.
